university introduced this policy to create a secure environment in which junior -positioned faculty members can concentrate on their research/education.

The post above has been newly created at HU to enable a promotion of the a plicant to the senior position of Associate Professor on the condition that he/she passes the tenure -track review before the tenure -track period expires. Such a system assumes that the recruited person will settle down in one place so that he/she can dedicate himself/herself to research and education in accordance with his/her proposed research.

Therefore, when processing an application for recruitment, we evaluate not only each 3 0 scope of his/her research plan. Thus, we assess is mid -to -long term (i.e. about 10 years) in scope, exceeding the tenure -track period. At the time of the review for the tenured promotion, we comprehensively eval s during his/her term at HU and the future prospect of his/her research.

By providing startup support money and assigning a mentor to each newly -recruited faculty member on tenure track, HU continues to develop an environment where such faculty members can engage himself/herself in research activities independently. In case the recruited member does not secure tenure, he/she will be able to extend his/her term of employment for up to one year as a specially appointed faculty member. The special appointment starts on the day following the end date of the existing employment contract for the tenure -track position.

We are looking forward to welcoming those who are prepared to go along with the principles, long -term vision and medium -term target of HU (https://www.hiroshima -u.ac.jp/en/about), and who are motivated and can play key roles by committing themselves to research and education at HU.

Mitsuo Ochi, President of Hiroshima University
