

Crowd tower the Light Pursuing a

World without Nuclear Weapons

Ms. Setsuko Thurlow was exposed to the A-bombing at the age of thirteen. She has worked together with ICAN since 2007 and accepted the Nobel Peace Prize on behalf of ICAN in 2017. She has contributed to shaping international public opinion by sharing her A-negotiations to establish the nuclear weapons ban treaty. She also spoke at various other international conferences aimed at highlighting the inhumane nature of nuclear weapons.

“Listen to Hibakusha and take stock of their heartfelt message. Together, we create a future of peace.”

Mitsuo Ochi , The president of Hiroshima University

November 18, Mon., 2019

11:00~12:00 (open at 10:30)

Faculty Club (Gakushikaikan), Reception Hall,
Higashi-Hiroshima Campus, Hiroshima University

MC: Prof. Noriyuki Kawano,

Director of the Center for Peace, Hiroshima University

Language: Japanese With simultaneous interpretation in English)

Admission: Free

Registration: By Nov. 13 through the following website.

