

Rules of Hiroshima University Collaborative Research Laboratory and Collaborative Research Division

(Rule No. 40, April 15, 2014)

(Revised: Rule No. 122, December 26, 2014)

(Revised: Rule No. 55, March 31, 2015)

(Revised: Rule No. 52, March 31, 2017)

(Revised: Rule No. 96, May 1, 2019)

(Revised: Rule No. 150, October 1, 2019)

<Outline>

Article 1 These rules set forth the terms and conditions required to implement the Hiroshima University Collaborative Research Laboratory and Collaborative Research Division (hereinafter referred to as Collab ) at of Hiroshima University Rules (Vol. 1 as of April 4, 2004).

1

<Objective>

Article 2 Collaborative Research Laboratory, etc. established and operated for Hiroshima University and an external private or other organization (hereinafter referred to as External Organization ) to jointly conduct a research, utilizing the fund granted by External Organization for the purpose of promotion and enhancement of the subject research.

<Definitions>

Article 3 In these rules, the following terms have the definitions, as defined hereunder respectively:

- (1) Collaborative Research Laboratory Conducts a research corresponding to that done in a chair utilities and so forth, with the fund granted to University by External Organization.
- (2) Collaborative Research Division Conducts a research corresponding to that done in a research division expenses, utilities and so forth, with the fund granted to University by External Organization.
- (3) Divisions, etc. Include faculties, graduate schools, research institutes, the Radiation Biology and Medicine, National Common Usage Center and Hiroshima University collaborative education and research facilities and Office of Academic Research and Industry-Government Collaboration.

<Name/Title>

Article 4 Collaborative Research Laboratory shall be named to designate the contents of the research conducted in the subject Collaborative Research Laboratory.

2. If proposed by External Organization, terms indicating the External Organization may be added to the title of the Collaborative Research Laboratory.

<Application for Establishment>

Article 5 When an application is received from an External Organization to establish a Collaborative Research Laboratory and the application is considered pertinent, an applicable director of the division, etc. shall discuss the matter at the Faculty Meeting and propose the establishment of the Collaborative Research Laboratory to President.

2. For a proposal set forth in Article 5, Section 1, the following documents shall be submitted:

(1) Application for the Establishment of Collaborative Research Laboratory (Appendix Form 1)

(2) Curriculum Vitae (Appendix Form 2) for Collaborative Research Lab Faculty Candidate and Letter of Acceptance of Appointment agreement with the same procedure as that of the establishment.

<Organization of Collaborative Research Laboratory>

<Handling of Collaborative Research>

Article 14 Besides the conditions specified herein, a collaborative research conducted in a Collaborative Research Laboratory shall abide by Hiroshima University Collaborative Research Handling Policy (as of March 14, 2006, Rule No. 18).

2. External Organization shall make monthly payment of 110,000yen per staff for each Collaborative Research Laboratory Faculty as costs required for the use of facilities, classes, research coaching and other costs required for educational and research activities.

3. External Organization shall make monthly payment of 3,100yen per square meter as the fee required for Collaborative Research Laboratory Faculty to use the facility, utilities costs and other expenses required for the equipment use, except for the case where separate rules are established on the equipment use.

<Miscellaneous>

Article 15 In the event that the conditions set forth herein may not be abided by for special reasons or in the event that abiding by the rules herein is judged extremely inappropriate by University and External Organization, University and External Organization may agree otherwise.

2. Other details required for the operation of a Collaborative Research Laboratory shall be set forth by departments concerned and reported to President.

Supplement

These rules shall enter into force effective April 15, 2014.

Supplement (Rule No. 122 December 26, 2014)

These rules shall enter into force effective January 1, 2015..

Supplement (Rule No. 55, March 31, 2015)

These rules shall enter into force effective April 1, 2015.

Supplement (No. 52, March 31, 2017)

These rules shall enter into force effective April 1, 2017.

Supplement (Rule No. 96, May 1, 2019)

These rules shall enter into force effective May 1, 2019.

Supplement (Rule No. 150, October 1, 2019)

1. These rules shall enter into force effective October 1, 2019.
2. For the Collaborative Research Laboratory, etc. whose Establishment Agreement was executed on the days before the effective date of these rules, the costs required for the use of facilities, classes, research coaching and other costs required for educational and research activities and the fee required for use of the facility, utilities costs and other expenses required for the equipment use follow the conditions before the new rules are effective, until March 31, 2020, regardless Section 2 and 3 of Article 14.
3. Regardless the terms and conditions of the new rules, for the existing Collaborative Research Laboratories, the costs required for the use of facilities, classes, research coaching and other costs can stay the same amount set forth in Section 2 and 3 of Article 14 before the new rules become effective.

Appendix Form 1: Application for the Establishment of Collaborative Research Laboratory

Appendix Form 2: Curriculum Vitae for Collaborative Research Lab Faculty Candidate

Appendix Form 3: Letter of Acceptance of Appointment