(Points to note)

1. Preparation Schedule

This schedule is designed for the Graduate School to present the basic workflow regarding the preparation of a doctoral dissertation. For details of each procedure, etc. provided in this schedule, students must follow the instructions of their respective programs.

2. Research Ethics Education

It is mandatory to receive Research Ethics Education before beginning to prepare a doctoral dissertation. For receiving the Education, refer to the document Research Ethics Education.

3. Supervisor Group

The Supervisor Group shall consist of one (1) supervisor and two (2) or more subadvisors according to the research theme, etc. The subadvisors shall include one (1) faculty member whose specialized field is different from that of the supervisor.

4. Requirements for undergoing a screening (preliminary screening) of a dissertation outline, etc.

In order to undergo a screening (preliminary screening) of his/her dissertation outline, etc., the student must, prior to submitting the doctoral dissertation outline to the supervisor, compile research results constituting his/her doctoral dissertation into a paper and submit the paper to and have it published (or accepted for publication) in a refereed academic journal issued by an academic society or the like.

- (1) The number of peer-reviewed publications in academic journals^{*1} must be one or more (including those that have been accepted).
- (2) In cases where there is no appropriate academic journal to publish a paper in, a publication in a bulletin, etc. equivalent to an academic journal, upon obtaining approval of the supervisor group to do so, may be deemed as a peer-reviewed publication. However, in such case, it must be a single-author publication in a bulletin, etc. whose system for reviewing papers is well established. (A paper co-supervisor will not be accepted.) In addition, when submitting his/her dissertation outline (when seeking permission for preliminary screening), the student must present comments by the supervisor stating the absence of appropriate academic journals to his/her program.
- (3) The provisions in the preceding paragraph (2) shall apply to cases where a student submits a paper for publication in the Bulletin of the Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Hiroshima University, to satisfy the requirements for undergoing the screening (preliminary screening) of his doctoral dissertation outline, etc. In such case, a faculty member who constitutes the supervisor group for the student concerned may not become a reviewer for the said paper.
- (4) In the case of a co-authored publication in an academic journal, the student concerned must be the first author thereof. In cases where certain rules exist regarding the ordering of the names of authors, the student must be the corresponding author^{*2}. In the case of co-authorship, the paper concerned may not be used to satisfy the requirements for undergoing a screening (preliminary screening) of other co-
