Program for Global Human Resource Development for Peacebuilding and Development

Primary Course

Application Guidelines for Non-Japanese Applicants

(FY 2024)

The Program for Global Human Resource Development for Peacebuilding and Development was established by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan (MOFA) in order to strengthen civilian capacity for peacebuilding and development. The Primary Course is designed to prepare early career professionals in peacebuilding, international development and related fields to work with a high level of competence, agility and skills.

From 2024, the course will be delivered over 4 weeks by Hiroshima University in close cooperation with the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) and the United Nations Volunteer Programme (UNV). Around 13 participants from Japan and 10 participants from other countries will participate in the course.

Non-Japanese nationals from the following countries/organizations are invited to apply for this year's program: Bangladesh, Fiji, El Salvador, Lebanon, Ukraine, Palestine, Mali, South Sudan, Uganda and African Union Commission (AUC).. Please note that for AUC, the application process is not open to the public and depends on arrangements with AUC.

1. Course Dates

- 1) Week 1 (online):
- 2) Weeks 2-4 (in-person training in Tokyo for 2 days and Hiroshima for all other days):

2. Program Structure

This course has been designed around the “5Ps” of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), namely People, Peace, Planet, Prosperity and Partnerships. The training will mainly cover three main themes:

- such as the guiding principles of the United Nations; multilateral approaches to preventing and addressing conflicts; economic, social and environmental frameworks such as the SDGs and international conventions; and emerging issues, such as the impact of new technologies and social media on peace and development activities.
- such as program planning and project management skills, including theory of change, gender mainstreaming, and monitoring and evaluation; and soft skills such as communication and negotiation.
- such as UN competencies, values and behaviors; career planning; mental health and well-being; and interview preparation.

Instructors are current or former staff members of international organizations, as well as experts in the fields of peacebuilding and development from Hiroshima University and other institutions.

3. Venue

Tokyo and Hiroshima University, Higashi-Hiroshima, Japan (about 4 hours by bullet train from Tokyo). Training will take place on the campus of Hiroshima University. Program associates will stay in this facility: <https://miraicrea.hiroshima-u.ac.jp/>.
