My general impression is that my study abroad experience in Münster was very enriching for me. This experience was a valuable opportunity to broaden my life and horizons.

First of all, the quality of education at the University of Münster is high, with a diverse academic program and excellent professors. Students in Germany were very diligent, and the library was always crowded even on weekends. To keep up with the classes, I had to do a lot of preparation and review, and there were also many assignments. However, the course content was interesting, an interdisciplinary approach was encouraged, and I gained new perspectives. The support system for international students was also excellent, and the staff in the international office and faculty were always ready to help. Their support was especially reassuring to me as I was unfamiliar with living in a different cultural environment for the first time. There were also excellent programs to help international students adjust, such as language courses and orientation events.

Furthermore, the city of Münster is charming and vibrant. With its beautiful historic buildings, lakes, and lively cafes and restaurants, there was always something new to discover. The diversity of the citizens is also impressive, and I was able to feel close to many different cultures and languages.

Finally, my study abroad experience in Münster had a profound impact on my life. Not only did I gain new friends and cultural understanding, but it was also a great opportunity for personal growth and self-discovery. This experience will be a valuable asset in my future and will always remain with me.
