8Ÿ ¦ The Green Door

Rudolf read the card. Only three words were written on it "The Green Door." A man who also received a card threw his away in front of Rudolf. Rudolf picked it up. It was just an advertisement for a dentist's office.

Rudolf wondered why and walked past the card man again. He got another card with the words "The Green Door." Many cards were thrown away on the street, but they were all for the dentist.

"Why did I receive these mysterious cards, not the dentist's ones?"

Rudolf was sure that an adventure was waiting for him.

Behind the card man, Rudolf saw a building that had the dentist's office and some shops on the first two floors. He entered the building and climbed to the third floor. There was a dark hallway. On the left, he saw a green door. He walked straight to the door and knocked.

Slowly, the door opened. A young woman stood there. She was pale and weak. She began to fall, but Rudolf caught her in his arms and carried her to a sofa in the room. After a while, the woman opened her eyes. She was very beautiful, but also very thin.

The woman looked at Rudolf calmly, and smiled.

"I fainted, didn't I?" she said. "I haven't eaten for three days."

"Oh, no!" cried Rudolf. "Wait! I'll be right back."

He ran out of the room and came back with a lot of food.

"It's ridiculous to go without eating," said Rudolf.

The woman began to eat and told him about herself. Her story was nothing new. She got sick and lost her job. She ran out of money and stayed in her room without hope. Then she heard the knock on her green door.

"And you have no family or friends in the city?" asked Rudolf.

"No. Nobody," answered the woman. "Oh
