

Guideline for the Hiroshima University (HU) is one of the largest and most comprehensive research universities in Japan. are committed to promoting research that benefits the future of humankind while fostering excellent human resources. Comprising 11 faculties, 11 graduate schools, an attached research institute, university hospital, and 11 attached schools, HU has more than 1,500 faculty and 600 staff members as of November, 2016, as well as more than 15,000 students as of November, 2016. Amid increasing globalization, we are now starting to enhance international competitiveness in the field of academic research.

HU has been selected to be one of the Japanese institutions to receive support from the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports Science and Technology (MEXT) as part of The Program for Promoting the Enhancement of Research Universities. Reflecting this backdrop, HU Writing Center started to expand its services in November 2013 given a mission research functions by supporting everyone from undergraduates to graduate students and faculty members in improving their academic writing skills in a manner appropriate to their level.

HU aspires to enhance its international competitiveness and reputation in global academic and educational fields by publishing more of its significant research results in English language journals and releasing research outcome to the international audiences. In order to make this possible, we have created a paid fellowship program in 2016 which is ideal for someone who wishes to gain professional experiences working with non-native English writers and speakers, focusing on academic writing at the tertiary level and above. The Fellow will work full-time at HU, located in two campuses at Higashi-Hiroshima and Kasumi, for a contract period of six months.

Position Title:

Writing Advisor Fellow (Full time)

Position Summary:

The Writing Advisor Fellow will provide consultation about academic writing in English, such as drafts for academic journals and proposal abstract drafts for international conferences and also facilitate writing groups for assisting Hiroshima University (HU) researchers to write high quality journal papers. Moreover, the Fellow will plan, organize, and lead seminars and workshops related to improving HU researchers academic writing and presentation skills. Other responsibilities include giving mid-term and final reporting presentation and to compile written report based on the presentations. In addition, it is strongly expected that the Fellow will collaborate with her/his colleagues to contribute to enhance research competitiveness of HU.

Working Location:

Primarily at the Research Planning Office, 1st Floor of the Headquarter building, Higashi-Hiroshima Campus, Hiroshima University (1-3-2 Kagamiyama, Higashi-Hiroshima, 739-8511 Japan)

Writing consultation / writing groups / seminars & workshops will be held at Higashi-Hiroshima Campus either Kasumi campus, Hiroshima University. Usually, the Fellow will work four days at Higashi-Hiroshima Campus and one day at Kasumi campus per week.

Responsibilities:

1. To provide consultation about academic writing in English, such as drafts for academic journals and proposal abstract drafts for international conferences (appointment given priority)
2. To facilitate writing groups for assisting HU researchers to write high quality journal papers
3. To work independently or as part of a team to plan, organize, and lead small group sessions (hopefully at least once a month) related to improving HU researchers academic writing and presentations
4. To work with the Research Planning Office in polishing English language summations of articles in Japanese mainly for faculty in the Art and Humanities and Social Sciences fields, so that international audience can easily follow them
5. To give mid-term and final reporting presentation and to compile written report based on the presentations
6. To collect information about and analyze the standard operating procedures of writing centers at other universities with specific interest in how they support and improve HU researchers ; and to analyze the data collected through services such as consultations and writing groups for self-evaluation and improvement of the Writing Center
7. To assist in organization and logistics of events organized by all areas of the Writing Center and the Research Planning Office, including writing English announcements of seminars for the web site

* The Fellow would not do proofreading of full papers.

* An experienced mentors in consultation on academic writing will give advice to the fellow.

* We are continuously making effort to improve this Writing Advisor Fellowship program. We expect the Fellow will exhibit flexibility in developing the Writing Advisor Fellowship program and ensure its current and future success.

* The Fellow may utilize the obtained date and experiences as the Writing Advisor Fellow at HU Writing Center for her/his current or future research and may present research outcomes at academic conferences and journal papers.

Qualifications:

1. Experiences in advising academic writing; Writing tutor experience at a writing center or similar program in a university required.
2. Excellent oral and written communication skills in English required, proficiency in Japanese is an advantage.
3. M.A. or above in Applied linguistics, Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), Literature, Rhetoric and Composition, or Scientific and Technical Writing required. Ph.D. holder preferred.
4. Experiences in publishing several journal papers required.
5. Proficiency in the use of MS Office applications skills (Word, Excel and PowerPoint) required.
6. The ability to coordinate activities and events.
7. Presentation and public speaking skills.

Starting Date:

September 2017 (exact starting date is negotiable)

Term:

Initial six-month contract with the strong likelihood of extension to a total of 12 months, based on the Fellow's performance and mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Research Planning Office.

Working Hours:

Weekdays from 8:30 to 17:15 (with one hour lunch break from 12:00 to 13:00).

* The Fellow will need to have a flexible schedule to accommodate consultations before or after researchers' academic responsibilities or to hold seminars and workshops at convenient time for participants. Daily work hours for the Fellow will not exceed 7 hours 45 min of work time.

Compensation and Benefits:

1. After-tax monthly salary of approximately 220,000 yen.
2. HU will sign a lease for an apartment with all utilities (heating/cooling, electricity, water, the Internet) and basic furnishings near the university. The Fellow will be required to pay monthly rent about 50,000-60,000 yen.
3. Roundtrip airfare to/from Higashi-Hiroshima, based on university restrictions. (Economy tickets only. You must purchase the ticket yourself and will be reimbursed upon your arrival.)
4. Annual paid leave (pro-rated from 20 days per 12 months for full-time employees).

5. The Research Planning Office will assist the Fellow with visa application paperwork, including providing a Certificate of Eligibility which is required to submit to a local Japanese consulate/embassy. Upon your arrival in Higashi-Hiroshima, your colleagues will assist you to open a bank account and submit official paperwork to City Hall.

Application for the Fellowship from the Website:

1. Application will be accepted only from the following form:
<<http://wrc.hiroshima-u.ac.jp/WAF2017/>>