Academic research is a costly activity, and it is neither surprising nor improper that researchers and research institution are asked to justify their use of public funds. What calls for analysis and discussion, however, is their explanation that such justifications be framed in terms of how likely a given individual research project is to meet “societal needs” or what “societa impact” or “output” it has or is likely to have in the future. This symposium brings together Japanese and Germa representatives of the Humanities and Social Sciences in order to seek new insights on the meaning and effects of t discourse of “societal impact” and the connected administrative practices.

A satellite symposium of the event, "The Impact of the Humanities and Social Sciences. Discussing Germany and Japan" (in Tokyo from November 13th to 15th) will be held on 15th November in Hiroshima. In this symposium, there will be a keynot lecture "Truth -Impact- Power" by Prof. Dr. Peter Strohschneider, the President of German Research Foundation (DFG followed by a panel discussion chaired by Prof. Dr. Julika Griem, the Vice President of DFG to discuss the future of resea in HSS with professors from Hiroshima University, Prof. Yohsuke Yamamoto, Academic Officer, Executive and Vice President, Prof. Yoshinori Etoh, Graduate School of Letters and Prof. Kazuhiro Kusahara, Graduate School of Education
