Peace and Stability through Decentralization

…

Democratic Peace is on the brink of crisis as xenophobia develops in many parts of the world including the issues of refugees from West Asia or North Africa toward Europe, and the nuclear and territorial problems that heighten the tensions in East Asia. Then what can we rely on to bring peace to the societies and stabilize them? One option we hav decentralization